

MAIN NEW HOMES IN SAUL'S ADDITION

More Than 200 Houses Put Up in Three Years, and Activity Continues.

Development of Saul's addition from a rolling tract on sparsely improved land into one of the most attractive residential sections of a metropolis is one of the wonders of Washington, nor is the transformation yet complete, for the building activity from Georgia avenue to Rock Creek Park shows no signs of a let up.

Eight houses have been completed within the last six weeks or are now in the course of construction by the N. L. Sansbury Company, and altogether more than 200 residences have gone up in this addition within three years. Convenient to both city and country, one operating in Georgia avenue and the other in Rock Creek Park, the latter an altitude that gives it the advantage of every breeze that blows it appeals to every home buyer that inspects it.

Only detached houses are constructed and the prices of those completed range from $4,000 to $10,000 for the building alone. As each building sets on a lot that allows for a spacious lawn and shrubbery the landscape effect is most pleasing. Stucco on hollow tile or metal lath, rough texture brick, and shingles are the materials favored by the builders in this addition, and in many instances the architects have succeeded in combining two of these materials effectively in the same house.

Another noticeable feature is the wide porches that offer an inviting shade in front of almost every house. This gives the section a distinctively Southern appearance that is enhanced by scores of flower beds and vines trained to be a speak an artistic taste. Within a short time Thirteenth street will be cut through this section, offering a new highway to the downtown district for automobilists.

WANTS HOME FOR PATRIOT SOCIETIES

Steps toward raising funds for the proposed clubhouses in Washington, where all patriotic societies may meet, will be taken next week, according to the chairman of the committee, appointed at last night's meeting, by Gen. John Lake, commander of the army and navy union.

We expect to enlist the sympathy of the citizens, the members of the army and navy union in service, as well as those formerly in the service, and to have Congress may be approached with a proposition as to helping out the project," declared Col. John McElroy, who is leading the committee.

Plans will be further carried out by the committee composed of Col. John McElroy, Wm. J. Jones, secretary; Col. R. C. Galbraith, Capt. B. P. Donnelly, Col. M. A. Winter, Gen. Andrew S. Cory and Col. F. B. Felt.

The members of the staff of the Army and Navy Union last night discussed the question of a national service club, to be maintained by a body of seasoned soldiers ready for instant service.

The Army and Navy Union is in receipt of an invitation from German veterans to send a delegation to Germany.

One of the large sales of city real estate this week was the transfer of the Belmar apartment house, 1323 Belmont street northwest, which was sold for $100,000 by the Goldenberg-Moray Company, to F. Baker Weaver and George W. Wise for the stated consideration of $65,000.

The Belmar is a four-story brick building containing sixteen apartments and produces an annual income of about $6,000. The same realty firm this week sold the brick residence at 2101 K street northwest, to R. S. Wolfe, the three-story brick residence at 1748 Columbia road.

Wife Sues Father-in-Law For Husband's Love Lost

Mrs. Louise R. Hayward, of this city, has filed suit at Los Angeles, Cal., for $100,000 damages against her father-in-law, Dr. Henderson Hayward, proprietor of the Hayward Hotel of Los Angeles, whom she charges with alienating the affections of her husband, Lester Hayward, who was killed in the army and courtship, by married her.

The plaintiff declares that she pawned her jewels to purchase the release of her husband from the army, only to be snubbed by his family when she reached Los Angeles with him.

Mrs. Hayward claims to be a member of a prominent Washington family and granddaughter of Columbus Alexander, founder of the first printing establishment in Washington. She is now in California and no one can be found here who knows her. Young Hayward is said to be in Detroit.

REAL ESTATE TRUST IN ITS NEW BUILDING

First Floor and Basement Will Be Occupied by Firm Organized in 1912.

This is moving day for the Real Estate Trust Company, which early today began transferring its office equipment from 1414 F street northwest to the ground floor of the new Real Estate Trust Building, at Fourteenth and H streets, where it will open for business Monday morning. The company will occupy the entire first floor and basement, and will have one of the largest realty offices in the city.

All of the fixtures in the new office will be of mahogany, contrasting attractively with the corridor floors, of white marble, and the office floors, of oak parquet. The main office is a spacious room, with a magazine gallery. The basement will be fitted up as a restaurant, primarily for the use of its agents and clients, an unique feature in office arrangement in Washington.

The Real Estate Trust Company was organized in April, 1912, and its growth has been unusually rapid. Its most important operation has been the acquisition of the Bradley Hills tract, stretching from Chevy Chase to Great Falls, which is developing rapidly since the construction of the new electric line through the property. A boulevard through the entire length, more than ten miles is now being macadamized. The insurance, investment, and rental departments of the concern have also reached large proportions.

The statement of assets and liabilities as of May 25 last shows $1,221,723.40. The company has a capital of $1,500,000. The officers of the company are: Gist Blair, president; Miss Margaret F. Lutz, secretary; M. F. Keating, treasurer; D. R. Rander, financial secretary, and Miss Anna B. Condit, historian. J. D. Gamble, Miss Mary Kennelly, and E. J. Ayres are vice presidents.

The speechmaking and the social features of such outings were dispensed with and everyone started out early in the day with no other intention than that of having a good time.

The officers of the society for the coming year are: John J. Keenan, president; Miss Margaret F. Lutz, secretary; M. F. Keating, treasurer; D. R. Rander, financial secretary, and Miss Anna B. Condit, historian. J. D. Gamble, Miss Mary Kennelly, and E. J. Ayres are vice presidents.

RAZE BUILDINGS FOR OFFICE STRUCTURE

Work To Be Started Within Two Weeks at L Street and Connecticut Avenue.

Three buildings on the northwest corner of Connecticut avenue and L street will be razed within the next two weeks to make room for one of the handsome medium sized store and office buildings in Washington, which probably will be completed some time next fall.

The new building will be three stories high, and will have a frontage of ninety feet on Connecticut avenue and seventy-three feet on L street. These two elevations will be of Indiana limestone. The building will be of the bungalow type with two large porches. The cost of the building and the improvement of the ground near it will be $25,000.

The architecture will be of the Italian style, several pavilions. The first floor will extend from the ground to the second floor, with Doric capitals crowning the slender columns. The second floor will extend the height of the two upper floors, the columns terminating in Corinthian capitals. The main entrance and lobby will be on Connecticut and the upper floors may be reached by stairway or elevator.

There will be four large stores on the ground floor, and in these the ceilings will be high enough to allow the construction of mezzanine balconies in the rear. The second floor will be divided into twelve offices while the third floor will be a large hall, possibly with movable partitions, so that it may be used for public meetings.

For the end of the present year. The officers are: Leo A. Rover, president; Dr. J. Rozier Briggs, first vice president; Clarence E. Edwards, second vice president, and F. M. McLaughlin, treasurer. These officers are also members of the board of directors, the other members being Samuel A. Gaskins, Leo J. Harlow, Henry J. Zilliox, Martin J. McNamara, and Judge Michael J. Doyle.

Would Restrict Sale of Cigarettes in District

Senator Thompson of Kansas has introduced in the Senate a bill to regulate the sale of cigarettes in the District. Sales of cigarettes to minors are made unlawful.

No person is allowed, under the bill, to sell cigarettes in the District under any circumstances without paying a license fee of $20. Any violation of the law is punishable by fine of $25 to $100. In addition to this, any vendor of cigarettes, who sells or in any way disposes of cigarettes to minors, forfeits his license. President Newman, of the Board of Commissioners, and the Corporation Counsel express approval of the bill, with slight modifications.

BAILIFFS TRY TO GET DELINQUENT TAXES

Collector Will Distrain and Sell
Personal Property Unless Levy Is Paid At Once.

Bailiffs, under the direction of Ben L. Prince, the collector of taxes, are engaged in rounding up those delinquent in the payment of personal taxes, as a preliminary to the distraint and sale of such property as may be necessary to satisfy the District's claims. Payments should have been made on these assessments before the last day of May. Next Wednesday the 1 per cent penalty, which has been in force since June 1, will be doubled, as the law provides for an additional 1 per cent for every month the taxes are in arrears.

Collector Prince said today that in most cases settlements are made by the delinquents as soon as the bailiffs call upon them, but that, under the law, he is compelled to proceed against the property holders should they so fail to settle.

"It is my purpose to give all this opportunity to make payment before taking more drastic steps. Mr. Prince said those who have not already paid would confer a great favor by calling at the tax office and making settlement at once."

"If this is not done and the delinquent does not make satisfactory settlement with the representative from the tax office, the collector expects to use freely the power given him by the personal tax law to distrain and sell the goods and chattels to satisfy the claim."

The books of the collector, show that there remains to be collected, on the personal tax account, $124,447.57. The total tax laid amounted to $1,500,000.

HOTEL WOMEN COME UNDER 8-HOUR LAW

Commissioners Rule That Female Employees Must Be Given Day Off Each Week.

A solar plexus blow was today dealt the claim of Washington hotel men that they can work the women in their employ seven days a week under the new eight-hour law governing employment of female help, when the Commissioners gave an adverse interpretation of the law.

Attorney A. S. Worthington, on behalf of the Washington Hotel Men's Association, had asked the Commissioners for their opinion with respect to the employment of women in hotels. Certain of the attorney's clients contended that the law "does not prohibit the employment in hotel work of more than eight hours in any one day, but that the seven days of the week, provided no woman is so employed more than forty-eight hours in the month."

The interpretation of the law given by the Commissioners, in response to Attorney Worthington's request, is to the effect that the act prohibits the employment of any female in any hotel for more than six days a week, or more than eight hours in any one day, thus assuring such help freedom from labor on one day in each week.

"No consideration has been given to the suggestion found in the brief of counsel that the law is to be interpreted as prohibiting the employment of women in hotels for more than six days a week, or more than eight hours in any one day, thus assuring such help freedom from labor on one day in each week."

SOLONS TO SWING BATS FOR CHARITY

Donkeys and Elephants to Play for Congressional Baseball Supremacy.

Members of the House this afternoon will swing their legislative arms and employ their administrative legs in the half of sweet charity, the occasion being the annual struggle in baseball between the Donkeys and the Elephants for the benefit of the Washington Playgrounds Association.

The game will be staged at the American League Park, beginning at 6 o'clock. No announcement has been made when the finish will come, but it was hinted from both camps that the effects of the game may be felt for several days.

The Democratic team is captained by Congressman Thomas L. Reilly, one of the most enthusiastic fans of the House, and the victorious leader of the Donkeys, over the Elephant team contingent last year, Congressman Charles F. Patton, a member of the Republican team, spent all morning carefully scrutinizing the athletic inclinations of the Republican members, and he has threatened to wig out the three former defectors if they show any political persuasion have suffered at the hands of the hated Democracy.

Congressman Edwin J. Webb, with an arm primed for the day, will be on the mound for the Democrats, while Manager Patton, who comes from the same State as many big league pitchers, will hurl for the Republicans.

The batting order of the Donkeys follows: Oldfield, catcher; Webb, pitcher; Gallivan, shortstop; Patton, first base; Elder, second base; Harrison, third base; Murray, of Massachusetts, left field; Rogers, first base; Woodruff, right field; Winslow, second base; Slomp, center field; Smith, third base.

Olin, Ky.—"I was bothered several years with scalp disease. There first came a pimply with a hard scab on it. I would scratch it off and then it would make a sore. At times I could hardly sleep at night for scratching. My hair gradually fell out. It was thin, dry and lifeless and dandruff was my bane."

"I tried several remedies but none of them did me any good only for a short time. At last I saw the Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement. I wrote for a sample and after using it once or twice I found out that it was just what I had been wanting. So I secured a larger amount of Cuticura Soap and Ointment from my druggist. I first put Cuticura Ointment on my scalp and then I would wash my head with Cuticura Soap. With just a few applications of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment I was cured." (Signed) R. L.
